Brothers,

I greet you in the name of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ and the reality that this will be my last written address to the Brothers of the Second District, as its District Representative, has come to fruition. I want to thank each of you for your support over the last two years because you are the reason this administration has had such a high level of success. Your support not only help achieve written goals it also helped our communities. I want to let you know that this has been a labor of love. I am honored and grateful for the privilege and opportunity to have served in the capacity as your 32nd Second District Representative. Thank you for an extraordinary year of Service. You continued to carry the torch where the Light of Life still shines.

Prior to my departure, I have one request to ask the Brothers of the 2nd District; that is for us to stay unified and solid from now through the conclusion of the conclave and beyond. When we get to Minneapolis, we must make a strong statement in our actions, our words and our VOTE. We have to re-elect Brother Andrew Ray for Grand Basileus, he has showcased his skill set in leading the fraternity to its highest level.

64th Second District Conference

We will now conduct our 64th Second District Conference, hosted by my chapter, Gamma Pi Chapter, at the Gaylord Convention Center, National Harbor, Prince Georges County, MD. We have prepared an aggressive agenda that includes familiar activities such as the Undergraduate Luncheon, Founders Banquet, Pan-Hellenic Dance, Talent Hunt, etc. Additionally, we've included a Thursday night Jazz Mixer, Quette Capital City Tour, Quette Brunch and an Ecumenical Worship Service with Bro. Rev. Dr. H.

Beecher Hicks (recognized as one of the 15 Greatest African American Pastors) Pastor of Metropolitan Baptist Church, Washington, D.C. bringing the “Word”.

More importantly we will elect a new Second District Council, govern yourselves accordingly and look forward to the cause of Omega and the Second District. Let us decide these elections in the best interest of our beloved organization, the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, nearest our hearts. We must continue to move the Second District into the Second Century of Excellence. As Brother Grand Basileus Andrew Ray has said, “We cannot miss the handoff”.

Our District Marshall, Bro. Eddie High, along with his dedicated committee, has done an excellent job of planning and organizing the week and it promises to be a most memorable occasion. We will experience an outstanding lineup of Social Action projects emblematic of Omega as well as an array of nighttime social activities that will make this conference as unique as the venue itself. See you there!

Fraternally,

Kenneth E. Rodgers
32nd Second District Representative

Gamma Pi Chapter Joins the American Automobile Association (AAA) to Honor Nannie Helen Burroughs During Black History Month Program

PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY, MD February 11, 2012.- When the name Nannie Helen Burroughs is mentioned in the National Capital Region, most people immediately think of the street and school named for her in Northeast Washington, D.C. Across the country, her name may not evoke much familiarity at all, as she is a prime candidate for classification as one of the most overlooked figures of Black History. But this year, for Black History Month, Nannie Helen Burroughs will get her due as she will be honored for her vast social contributions and presented with a long overdue membership card from AAA some 70 years after the national motor club denied her one during the time she was outspoken about the treatment of Blacks in America.

The symbolic presentation of the AAA membership card to Burroughs, posthumously, will take place on Saturday, February 11, at 10 a.m. the Charles H. Flowers High School in Springdale, Md. (Prince George's County) during a Black History Month program sponsored by the Gamma Pi chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc. The Black History program is actually serving as the February monthly session of Gamma Pi's Project ENRICH initiative - an academic enrichment program that helps county high school students prepare for college over a four-year period.

Retired U.S. Army Col. James Wyatt, one of the longest-serving Omega Psi Phi members who happens to be in Gamma Pi, has been researching Burroughs' life for many years and during that time has been communicating the significance of her little-known history with AAA and others. After numerous conversations and many letters, Wyatt convinced the motor club to salute her work and formally correct the wrong of 1930 - a completely different era in race relations for sure -- by symbolically presenting her a membership card that closely resembles what was distributed by AAA in the 1930s.

Key representatives of AAA's home office in Florida will travel to the area to join fraternity leaders for the presentation, which will take place in a formal ceremony during the Black History Month program at Flowers.

"Nannie Helen Burroughs touched literally every aspect of African American life for over 60 years. While vigorously fighting racism, she advocated equally for cooperation between the races as the path to a better America," said Wyatt, who lives in Annapolis. "Unfortunately, she seems to have been lost to history. AAA's action is a giant step towards America extending the recognition and respect to this civil rights, religious and educational leader that she rightly earned and deserves for her contributions to our country."

Burroughs was a civil rights advocate, religious and educational leader. From 1901 until her demise in 1961, Burroughs was secretary and president of the Baptist Women's Convention, while simultaneously serving as principal of the school she established in Washington in 1909 for Negro girls. Mary McLeod Bethune was the guest speaker on opening day. The school is in its 111th year of operation. Among other things, she was a personal friend of Booker T. Washington, Carter G. Woodson (who founded Black History Month), Thurgood Marshall, Martin Luther King, Sr. and Jr. and James Weldon Johnson, and was the first woman to give the commencement speech at Tuskegee Institute in 1934. May 10th is celebrated as Nannie Helen Burroughs Day in Washington, DC.

Lambda Gamma Gamma - We Feel Our People Day

Washington, D.C. January 16th, 2012, Lambda Gamma Gamma (LGG) Chapter of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc., home of the "Capital Region Ques" officially started its 2012 year programming with its annual clothing drive held in conjunction with the We Feed Our People Annual Martin Luther King Day of Service that occurs annually in front of the Martin Luther King Jr. Library in Washington, D.C.

Each year, members of LGG's Clothing Drive Committee ask brothers to look into their hearts and homes to provide needed items to homeless and less-fortunate persons. Starting in December of 2011, under the exceptional leadership of committee chair Brother Johnny Sidbury, who was assisted by Brothers Jamere Clark and Erick Tyrone, LGG's Clothing Drive Committee began its efforts to collect clothes and shoes.

In total, sixty-five bags of clothing and shoes were collected. Over two-hundred brothers helped disseminate items to an estimated 350 individuals and the committee dropped off all remaining items from the program to a local shelter in Washington, D.C. The We Feed Our People event that LGG supports with other organizations each year across the D.C. metropolitan area was equally successful. LGG donated $1,000.00 to We Feed Our People to help cover food expenses. Brothers of LGG set up tables and chairs, provided security, and assisted with the coordination of the overall clothing drive and food distribution. Brothers also assisted in preparing and serving food. Brother Sherman Charles served as the disc-jockey for the event and provided music entertainment.

LGG has determined that it will support the D.C. Metropolitan Community with an emphasis on friendship among fraternity brothers, personal health initiatives, and service to children, families, and the underprivileged. LGG has expanded sponsorship opportunities for events and activities designed to benefit the LGG Uplift Foundation, LGG's related 501(c)(3) organization that annually provides targeted services, training and scholarship opportunities

Gamma Pi Talent Hunt 2012

Springdale, Md. March 10, 2012 - It's one thing to flip the channels between "American Idol" and "The X Factor" to see who will be the next great singer, instrumentalist or band. It's another thing to watch these budding young artists in person. Gamma Pi chapter joined a full house from the local community in watching tomorrow's superstars as the chapter crowned a new champion at the Annual Talent Hunt competition on March 10.

A professional panel of judges voted violinist Melia Humphrey from the Performing Arts Center at Suitland High School as the overall winner for the 2012 Talent Hunt Program. As the overall winner, Ms. Humphrey will represent Gamma Pi at the 64th Second District Conference Talent Hunt Competition, scheduled for Saturday, April 28, 2012, at Washington National Harbor, Maryland.

Winners were named in six different categories: Vocal Contemporary (Fannie Johnson), Dance (Imani Lee), Dramatic Interpretation (Sey Elemo), Instrumental (Vernon Q. Jones II), Piano Classical Instrumental (Felissa Stoutt) and Art (Ian Mitchell). Jerome Thomas received Honorable Mention in the Art category. Auditions were open to high school students in Prince George's County.

The Talent Hunt was held at Charles H. Flowers High School in Springdale, which, ironically, is named for former Tuskegee Airman and Brother Flowers (Omega chapter), who lived for many years in the local community.

In recent years, the Gamma Pi Annual Talent Show has brought down the house with piercing vocal renditions, classic piano performances, rhythm-inducing guitar and drum solos, Broadway-like dramatic performances and even brilliant displays of artwork evoking memories of the late great African American artist, Romare

Bearden. Last year's overall winner, Malcolm Jackson, floored the auditorium with a Lionel Hampton-like marimba solo.

Brother Leroy Barton, Jr., a longtime college-level music instructor and a professional musician, has led Gamma Pi's Talent Hunt efforts for several years. He arranges each year for Gamma Pi to get judges for the competition who are professionally and academically trained in music and the arts. Talent Hunt is one of the most visible mandated programs of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc.

LGG Chapter Charters & Supports Boy Scout Troop 2019

Upper Marlboro, Maryland – December 3rd, 2011. The Boy Scouts of America Troop 2019, supporting the Drew Freeman Middle School (Suitland, Maryland) and now entering into its second year of troop activity participated in their recent camping activity located at the Patuxent River Park located in Upper Marlboro, Maryland.

The camping exercise marked the Troop’s first outdoor camping activity which spanned over a two-night period. The first day of the exercise involved tent setup, cooking area prep, axe yard creation, and sanitation litter control setup followed by a short site hike. Brother Lloyd Davis, Scout Master, provided instruction on how to setup a camp site and how to create camp fires, fire control, and handling fire safely. Additional instruction was given on handling sharp edged tools such as axes, hatchets, and knives along with food preparing. The Troop enjoyed eating their Meals-Ready-to-Eat (MREs) and was fascinated by the lesson on how chemical exothermic reactions are generated by the heating provided with the MREs.

A team competition was conducted to see who could build a fire using only organic materials and several matches. The fire exercise had to burn through two strings tied one above the other and strung between two upright sticks. Troop 2019 then went on a night-time hike and learned a bit about night land navigation and safety in the outdoors darkness.

Brother Bleu Colquitt, one of the initial founders of the BSA Troop 2019 program, indicated that the success of the troop participation is attributed to the Drew Freeman Middle School, the local community and also the brothers in the chapter personal time, monetary & equipment donations, and commitment.

Troop 2019 will be preparing to conduct another field exercise during the weekend of January 27th -29th, 2012 which will be organized by the Boy Scouts of America (BSA) District & Council entitled the “Klondike Camp” which is a winter exercise which offers many cold weather challenges to participating troops.

Boy Scout Troop 2019, headed by Scoutmaster Lloyd Davis, is organized into three (3) patrols: Wolfpack, Cheetah, and Piranha. The Patrol Leaders are Scouts Antonio Green, Javon Logan, and Natural Dennis. Scout Greene is also the Interim-Senior Patrol Leader for BSA Troop 2019. Troop 2019 was chartered by Brother Bleu Colquitt and Brother Vroman Wright.

Beta Alpha Alpha Chapter Presented Special Screening of Red Tails

White Plains, NY 10601. Saturday, January 21, 2012. Beta Alpha Alpha Chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity ("BAA") and community organizations hosted the movie screening of Red Tails a World War II action adventure based upon the true story of America first all-black combat unit of the great Tuskegee Airmen on Saturday, January 21, 12 at the City Cinema 15, 19 Mamaroneck Ave., White Plains, NY 10601.

The newly released Red Tails tells the story of the black pilots of the 332nd Fighter Group, who before facing Hitler's Luftwaffe had to overcome their countrymen's implacable and groundless belief that they lacked the intelligence and courage to be fighter pilots during World War II. Overcoming an obstacle no white trainee faced, the pilots of the 332nd dealt the Luftwaffe a blow that once again underscored the vital contributions of blacks to America's greatness.

Proceeds will benefit the organizations Fatherhood Initiative, a

Nu Upsilon Founders Day 2011

Wilmington, DE. – For Founders' Day 2011, the Nu Upsilon Chapter acknowledged the fortitude of our founders with Grand Basileus Dr. Andrew A. Ray as its keynote speaker. The service was held at Ezion Fair Baptist Church, the edifice where our Grand Chaplain Rev. Dr. Christopher T. Curry serves as its pastor.

The service was led by Bro. Carlton Lampkins and included key contributions by chapter leaders and our 2nd District Second Corridor Representative, Bro. Derrick Lowery. Additionally, music was provided by the Ezion Fair Choir and Ensemble.

The highlight of the Founders' Day Celebration was the keynote address, "Don't Miss the Handoff," delivered with aplomb by Grand Basileus Ray. The crux of Bro. Ray's message was that it is important that brothers understand the realities of fraternal life and govern themselves according, as well as the importance of developing leaders who will be able to move our beloved fraternity forward for another 100 years. Eloquent and articulately, Bro. Ray left us with such profound words by which we should live as "know the game you're in and understand the rules", "don't confuse being tolerated with being accepted", and a quote by the late Alex Haley – "if you don't deal with reality, reality will deal with you." Grand Basileus Ray left all in attendance with inspiration and "food for thought!"

Nu Upsilon's Founders' Day Service incorporated honors for brothers and community members who have contributed to the success and enhancement of our chapter. Bro. Wesley Wilson was named Chapter Omega Man of the Year; the Clarion Hotel in New Castle, Delaware was awarded the Corporate Recognition Award; Dyana Williams, the renowned media guru and the hostess of Philadelphia's (PA) WDAS-FM 107.9 "Soulful Sunday," was endowed with the Citizen of the Year Award; and a special Centennial Award was presented to the only remaining founder of Nu Upsilon, Bro. Nu Upsilon Collaborates with Junior Achievement

Wilmington, DE - The Nu Upsilon Chapter's Omega Village Enrichment Program (OVEP), for young males in grades 6 -12, is in its 9th year with a record high 22 students! The primary goal of this program is to engage our young people in a variety of cultural and educational experiences that will broaden their knowledge and exposure to different facets of life.

Nu Upsilon worked with the staff of Junior Achievement of Delaware in November 2011 to provide financial/business experiences for our young people. In two sessions, the youngsters were taken on a virtual tour, JA Innovation Hub, to investigate a variety of STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) careers and engaged in a financial activity related to money management and the use of a credit card.

In the STEM activity the students went on a virtual tour related to Global Hot Topics such as military technology; sports medicine and technology; feeding the hungry; curing disease and managing pain; and crime scene investigation. The ultimate goal was for each student to select an area of interest and to research the educational requirements and develop a career roadmap and career success plan.

In the Junior Achievement Finance Park, a real-life, credit card activity provided each student with a different scenario of a family structure situation, his employment, and his monthly salary. From this, the students had to make financial decisions and balance a budget, while funding their housing, transportation, entertainment, and other living expenses.

Throughout both activities, the students were focused and expressed their appreciation for what is included in the concept of "being grown!"

The readers shared, with young people in grades K – 5, literature of different genres. The themes of the literary works included manners, cultural unity, making good decisions, friendship, and self esteem. At each of the schools, brothers not only read the stories, but they engaged the students through the use of questioning techniques that allowed the students to demonstrate their understanding of the stories and the vocabulary. In each of the schools more than 250 students participated in this entertaining, learning experience, and the brothers of Nu Upsilon enjoyed this venture and are excited about its efforts to contribute to the "Assault on Illiteracy!"

Pi Chapter Soles 4 Souls Social Action Program

Baltimore, MD. February 2012. The Brothers of Pi Chapter, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Incorporated launched our "Soles4Souls" campaign to collect funds and monetary donations to help change the lives of others across the world. This monumental event was held on the campus of Morgan State University in Baltimore, Maryland. Soles4Souls is a Nashville-based nonprofit that distributes shoes to people in need throughout the world. Soles4Souls has given away over 5.5 million pairs of shoes since 2005—that's one pair every seven seconds! The Brothers of Pi Chapter spearheaded this event on the campus of Morgan State University because we understood that there are people who unfortunately goes through life obstacles and don't have the resources to purchase footwear, materialistic items that we usually take for granted but are needed in our everyday lives. Since the month of February the Brothers of Pi Chapter have collected over $400 dollars on campus and across the community for Soles4Souls and are still collecting donations to help change the lives of those who aren't blessed with the resources to purchase footwear. Westchester, NY. February 2012. The Brothers developed an Internet Scavenger hunt for the Boys & Girls Club members, which provided clues to search the Internet and identify major accomplishment and inventions of African Americans which included a number of Omega Men. There were a total of 28 members from the Boys & Girls Club of various ages which participated and showed great enthusiasm once the project was under way in the computer lab. It was plain to see that curiosity of each member grew as they navigated the Internet to find answers and was proud to find out the accomplishments of so many African Americans both male and female which contributed to the growth of mankind and humanity.

The Brothers also facilitated a viewing and conversation of the film "Crucibles of Courage" at the Armani Charter School in Mount Vernon New York. The film chronicled the lives of 5 African Americans which depicted the hurdles which each had to overcome through diligent planning and perseverance to achieve their individual goals. The 46 students in attendance were able to directly identify with at least 1 accomplishment, Brown vs. The Board of Education and how the victory has affected their current lives for equal education.

The impact at both sites was so positive that the Men of Omicron Iota Chapter has been asked by the Boys & Girls Club and the Armani Charter School to continue with these interactive programs during the year.
